

Like research? Don't love the lab?

Consider a career in research administration!

Research administrators work for universities, government agencies & non-profits - helping scientists manage grants, ensuring compliance with policies, laws & regulations, managing budgets, coordinating research with collaborators, & managing intellectual property & technology transfer.

A new, internship program will pay you to learn about the work that research administrators do & what research administration careers are like.

Work on campus ~10 - 15 hours/week, stipend $2,250/semester
